Tourism Victoria award winners announced at AGM

VICTORIA, B.C. – Two people who have made significant contributions to Greater Victoria’s tourism economy are being honoured today at Tourism Victoria’s annual general meeting.

- Svein Haugen, Director of Properties and Land Management with the Ministry of Transportation and Infrastructure, is the recipient of the 33th annual Miracle Award.
- Al Clark, the founder and organizer of Northwest Deuce Days, is the recipient of the 2016 Life Member Award.

“We are delighted to once again report on strong business results, and celebrate two incredibly deserving award recipients,” Tourism Victoria President and CEO Paul Nursey said. “It is important to acknowledge the partnerships that are allowing Greater Victoria to shine — today and for many years to come.”

The awards are being presented on April 22 at the Harbour Towers Hotel and Suites as part of Tourism Victoria’s annual general meeting.

About Tourism Victoria Awards
